The Month That Was

October saw India cross over a billion vaccination doses, with over seven hundred million individuals having received at least one dose. More than 23% of the total population is now fully vaccinated, while an additional 29% have received their first dose. Daily COVID cases in India continued to drop, with reported cases now sustaining well below 15,000. The economy moved further close to normalization as restrictions were relaxed for entry into malls and theatres and domestic travel. However, the Nifty 50 index closed flat for the month after hitting all-time highs during the middle of the month. The mid-cap index also ended flat, while the small-cap index ended 1% lower. This was driven by the ongoing global energy crisis, that worsened during the month as both LNG and coal prices touched lifetime highs. The situation was dire in Europe, which faced industrial shutdowns while China witnessed coal shortages and blackouts. India also had a minor scare as coal inventory at power plants dipped below five days, driving fears of China like blackouts. However, as the monsoon eased, supplies from Coal India improved. While coal stocks are still low, but they are no longer critical. Commercial vehicles and passenger cars continued to see improvement with improving consumer sentiment. Banking and auto performed well during the month while consumer goods and pharma underperformed.

Some of the other key developments for the month were:

- Moody's changed India's sovereign rating outlook from "Negative" to "Stable"
- Reserve Bank of India (RBI) maintained status quo in its bi-monthly Monetary Policy meeting, keeping policy rates and accommodative stance unchanged
- CPI inflation for month of September eased out further to a 5-month low of 4.3% due to moderation in food prices and due to a high base effect
- Tata group placed a winning bid of ₹18,000 crore to re-acquire Air India, more than half a century after it ceded control to the Centre
- The minutes of FOMC September meeting highlighted that Fed officials broadly agreed last month to start reducing asset purchases as early as mid-November
- FIIs sold USD 3.5bn during the month while DIIs remained buyers with net purchases of USD 0.6bn

Market Outlook

The recent market correction reflects investor concerns over steep valuations, rising commodity prices and signals of liquidity normalization from the central banks. However, demand remains robust as the daily COVID cases continue to see a drop, improved vaccination rates drive out-of-home consumption higher, and the capex cycle sees a recovery. The real estate sector is witnessing improved pre-sales, thereby driving higher launches, accelerating demand for cement and steel. Mall and movie theatre footfalls have improved, benefitting from the relaxation of COVID related restrictions. Governments finances have seen sharp improvement, with fiscal deficit for the first six months of financial year being restricted to only 35% of full-year estimates versus 115% last year. This has created space for further spending on infrastructure projects.

Margin pressures emerged during the current earning cycle, especially in domestic consumption names. However, we remain confident that improved demand conditions should help pass on higher commodity costs, as witnessed in cement, steel, paints, and gas stocks. The earnings momentum thus is expected to remain strong despite near term challenges.

Monetary policy is also likely to normalize, but we don't see a repeat of 2013. India is better placed now given significant improvement in its external position with a manageable Current Account Deficit and all-time high forex reserves. Further, any interest rate hikes are expected to be gradual so that they don't adversely impact growth recovery.

We believe the underlying growth would have further legs as the domestic employment scenario improves, loan growth picks and the SME sector starts delivering. Thus, despite a sharp rally in Indian equities and near-term inflationary headwinds, we remain positive on the Indian equity markets. We are positive on sectors like Banking, Housing Finance, Consumer Discretionary, Consumer Staples, Telecom and Cement.

Fixed Income Markets

After the prolonged slowdown, the industrial production posted high y/y growth for the sixth consecutive month in August 2021. Manufacturing PMI remained in expansionary zone, while also, services activity gained ground due to pent up demand. High frequency indicators including cement production, electricity demand, e-way bills, GST and toll collection suggest normalisation of economic activity to pre-pandemic level. However, indicators such as steel production, 2-wheeler sales, tractor sales have shown some weakness.

Reserve Bank of India (RBI) in its Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) on October 8, 2021 decided to keep key rates unchanged while maintaining "Accommodative Stance" to support the economic recovery. However, with existing liquidity overhang, the RBI decided to conclude its planned G-Sec Acquisition Programme, implying beginning of liquidity normalisation.

Consumer Price Index (CPI) inflation for Q2 FY22 stands at 5.08% y/y in line with revised RBI estimates of 5.10% y/y for Q2 FY22. Inflation print fell below 4.50% y/y to 4.35% y/y in September 2021 for the first time in five months led by favourable base effects and softening food prices. For October 2021, fuel prices have started firming up mainly due to increasing crude oil prices globally; this is likely to pose upside risks on inflation both directly through transport and communication index and indirectly in the food basket. Given the favourable base, CPI is expected to remain moderated in Q3 FY22, risks to inflation remain higher in Q4 FY22 as the base gets negative.

Fixed Income Markets

10 Yr Benchmark Vs Repo Rate

Yield on 10-Year benchmark Government Security traded in 6.24%-6.39% range during October 2021. The yields of 10-Year benchmark Government Security has been elevated above 6.30% post the announcement of discontinuation of planned G-Sec Acquisition Programme and to be done on need basis. Even though the MPC has assured that the policy normalization will be a gradual process; the pace of normalization will be highly functional of global and domestic inflation trajectory, growth sustainability, Fed's stance on rate hikes and liquidity and the likely inclusion of India in global bond indices.

Hence, even though the RBI may continue supporting the bond market by way of unconventional policy measures, overall policy normalization by central bankers globally and domestically may push yields higher for medium term.

Outlook:

On global front, the US 10Y bond yield saw some volatility during the month post the FOMC meeting wherein, Fed Chairman distinctly spoke about tapering of asset purchase happening by end of the current calendar year, although rate hike may not happen soon.

On the domestic front, distinct improvement in government finances this fiscal on the back of higher tax collections is indeed a macro positive from bond market perspective. However, given the RBI's decision to discontinue planned G-Sec Acquisition Programme and initiate liquidity normalisation is likely to keep yields at elevated levels in the medium term. Going forward, policy rates is expected to remain status quo for next few months and normalisation of rates may begin in 2022.

Strategy:

The progress of vaccination programme, global commodity prices and US Fed's stance on the revival of US economy remain key monitorable.

Our portfolios remain credit conservative with over 99% of Fixed Income Investments in Sovereign and AAA equivalent instruments.
